

The Department of Placement & Training conducted Soft skills & Maths Aptitude for the students. The training faculty highlighted the importance of Soft skills development by giving live examples and how to approach your life and work. Simply, soft skills are effective use of interpersonal skills and they characterize how you interact with other people in the workplace.

The Department of Placement & Training conducted Soft skills & Maths Aptitude for the students. Soft skills training enabled our students to “think out of box” both creatively and critically. Using these skills, students will be able to weigh up their options, make informed decisions, making them more likely to achieve the desired carrier.

The Department of Placement & Training conducted Soft skills & Maths Aptitude for the students. Soft skills are the life skills, personality traits, and communication abilities in your workplace which spells success in your organization. In your workplace these skills are essential for Problem-solving, Critical thinking, leadership.

The Department of Placement & Training conducted Soft skills & Maths Aptitude for the students. Soft skills are the life skills, personality traits, and communication abilities in your workplace which spells success in your organization. In your workplace these skills are essential for Problem-solving, Critical thinking, leadership.

The Department of Placement & Training conducted Soft skills & Maths Aptitude for the students. The training faculty highlighted the importance of Soft skills development by giving live examples and how to approach your life and work. Simply, soft skills are effective use of interpersonal skills and they characterize how you interact with other people in the workplace.